On page 5 – Fig. 2

The published version contains:

In Fig. 2, the italic values indicating the number of sampling events (n) were inadvertently assigned to the elevational intervals in reverse order. The species richness values in the figure are correct.

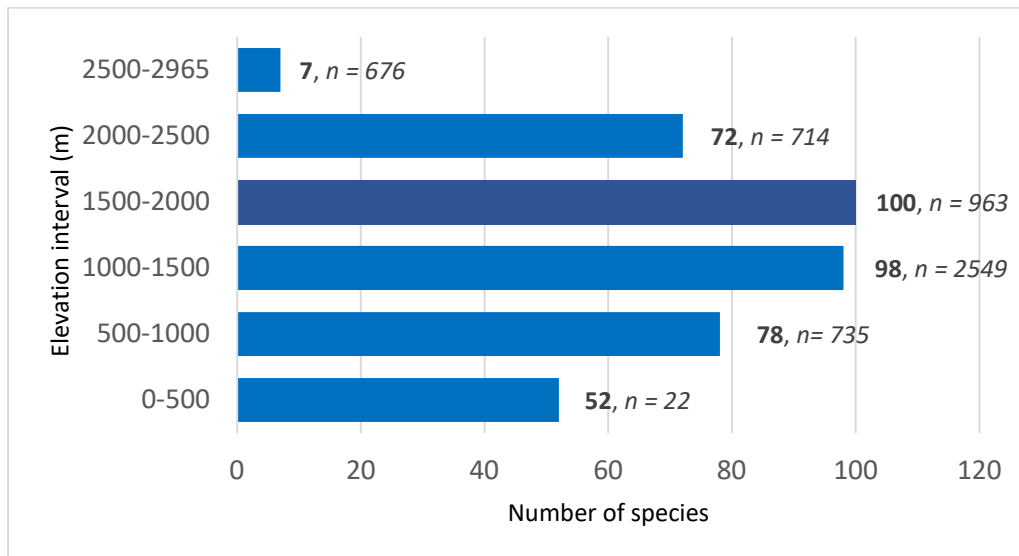

Fig. 2. Distribution of recorded ant species across elevational intervals. Bold numbers indicate species richness, and italic values indicate the number of sampling events (n) within each elevational interval.

The correction should read as follows:
